Liquidity Risks
You are exposed to Liquidity Risk <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • In general the Sub-Fund manages its investments, including cash, such that it can meet its liabilities for the redemption of any Shares that investors wish to sell. Investments held may need to be sold if insufficient cash is available to finance such redemptions. • If the size of the disposals is sufficiently large, or the market is illiquid, then there is a risk that either the investments might not be sold or the price at which they are sold may adversely affect the NAV of the Sub-Fund.

Product-Specific Risks

You are exposed to Equities Risk

- The value of stocks may fluctuate, sometimes dramatically, in response to the activities and results of individual companies or because of general market and economic conditions or other events.

You are exposed to Investments in Medium and Small Sized Firms Risks

- There may be limited opportunities to find alternative ways of managing cash flows because of the relatively illiquid nature of markets in small and medium sized companies' shares. The share prices of such companies generally are more volatile than those of larger companies; the shares are often less liquid and these companies may be subject to more abrupt fluctuations in market price than larger, more established companies. Investments in shares of companies with smaller market capitalisations are generally considered to offer greater opportunity for appreciation but also may involve greater risks than customarily associated with more established companies as they are generally more likely to be adversely affected by poor economic or market conditions.

You are exposed to QFII Risks

- The Sub-Fund may invest in China A shares and may incur losses due to limited investment opportunities, or may not be able to fully implement or pursue its investment objectives or strategy, due to QFII investment restrictions, illiquidity of the China A shares market, and/or delay or disruption in execution of trades or in settlement of trades.

You are exposed to Emerging Markets Risks

- The Sub-Fund invests in emerging market securities and the price of these securities may be more volatile than those of securities in more developed markets.
- This volatility may stem from political and economic factors and be exacerbated by legal, trading liquidity, settlement, transfer of securities and currency factors.
- Although care is taken to understand and manage these risks, the Sub-Fund and accordingly the shareholders in the Sub-Fund will ultimately bear the risks associated with investing in these markets.

You are exposed to Derivatives Risk

- Although the Sub-Fund will not make extensive use of financial derivative instruments for investment purposes or use complex derivative instruments or strategies to meet the investment objectives of the Sub-Fund, the use of financial derivative instruments may give rise to leverage, liquidity, counterparty and valuations risks at times. In adverse situations, the Sub-Fund's use of derivative instruments may become ineffective and the Sub-Fund may suffer significant losses.

You are exposed to risks associated with Stock Connect

- The Sub-Fund may invest in certain China A shares through Stock Connect. The ability to trade through Stock Connect in a timely manner may be affected by quota limitations and PRC regulatory restrictions. A suspension in trading through Stock Connect will adversely affect the ability to access the PRC market. Differences in trading days in the PRC and Hong Kong markets also leads to the risks of price fluctuations in the shares when Stock Connect is not trading.
- Trading through Stock Connect is subject to other risks, including clearing and settlement risks (e.g. if the PRC clearing house defaults on its obligation, the Sub-Fund may suffer delays and/or inability to recover losses), restrictions on selling imposed by front-end monitoring, nominee arrangements in holding China A shares and regulatory risk.

S$1,250	X	1,000	=	S$1,250
